The Department of Occupational, Workforce, and Leadership Studies at Texas State prepares nontraditional students for careers through high-quality academic, professional, and technical programs. Here are some of the reasons this may be the right program for you:

- We offer courses at convenient times and locations for the working adult.
- By using past courses and work/life credit, you may be able to complete your entire degree in San Antonio or at the Round Rock campus.
- You can individualize your degree. Faculty advisors work with you in analyzing your strengths and weaknesses, and planning your future career goals.
