The School of Art and Design promotes the understanding of art in culture by providing a learning environment that advances students' critical and creative thinking, encourages diverse perspectives, and nurtures individual artistic expression. The School fosters creative and scholarly activities that develop students' conceptual and technical abilities and encourages visually articulate thinkers. The faculty come from diverse educational, professional and cultural backgrounds. Through effective teaching, the School of Art and Design helps students achieve excellence in their individual, artistic and career goals.

The School of Art and Design offers six programs leading to the following degrees:

- Bachelor of Fine Arts with a major in Communication Design;
- Bachelor of Fine Arts with a major in Photography;
- Bachelor of Fine Arts with a major in Studio Art that offers specializations in ceramics, drawing, expanded media, metals, painting, printmaking, and sculpture;
- Bachelor of Fine Arts with a major in Studio Art leading to All-Level (EC-12) Certification that prepares students for teaching art in elementary and secondary schools;
- Bachelor of Arts with a major in Art History that provides an intellectual foundation and a broad background in the history of art, aesthetics and art criticism; and
- Bachelor of Arts with a major in Art that provides broad exposure to art.

All art and design majors are encouraged to enter the annual student exhibition and to take advantage of the University Art Gallery and visiting artists programs. An active internship program is available for all qualified art and design majors.

Special Requirements

All students majoring in Studio Art or in Photography are required to participate in the Senior Exhibition (ARTS 4000) within the academic year they plan to graduate. All students majoring in Communication Design are required to participate in Exit Review (ARTC 4000) within the academic year they plan to graduate.

Communication Design Admission

The Communication Design Program, a three and a half year sequenced curriculum, emphasizes the integration of critical thinking with a thorough understanding of design principles and processes relevant to the professional practice of design. The program also embraces social, cultural, historical, economic, and global contexts to prepare students to advance knowledge within the discipline. This approach prepares graduates for successful entry into the profession, as well as for entry into graduate education programs.

Admission requirements for the Communication Design program are more restrictive than those of the University and enrollment is limited to provide students with a quality experience.

All applicants who indicate Communication Design as their preferred major will be assigned a temporary status major code of pre-Communication Design. In addition to meeting Texas State’s general admission criteria, all students intending to major in Communication Design must pass ARTC 2000 Admission Portfolio Review to be admitted into the program. Admission Portfolio Review is a competitive formal review of creative work, conducted by Communication Design faculty, which takes place once a year at the end of the spring semester. Native and transfer students will be required to sign up for Admissions Portfolio Review during the earliest spring semester in which they will meet all eligibility requirements for the review. Students who are denied admission to the Communication Design program after their first review will be allowed only one more attempt during the next review. Pre-Communication Design majors will not be permitted to enroll in 2000 – 4000 level Communication Design courses until they have passed Admission Portfolio Review and have been formally admitted to the program.

All students must meet the following criteria to be eligible to submit their work for the Admission Portfolio Review:

1. Be enrolled in ARTC 2000 Admissions Portfolio Review
2. Complete ARTF 1301, ARTF 1302 with a minimum grade of "C"
3. Have an Overall GPA of 2.75
4. Complete ARTC 1301 and ARTC 1302 with a minimum grade of "B" or concurrent enrollment in ARTC 1301 and ARTC 1302 (ARTC 1301 and ARTC 1302 must be taken at Texas State.) The school no longer accepts transfer credits in Communication Design. All criteria apply to both transfer students and incoming freshman.

Requirements for admission to the Communication Design program are:

1. Passing grade in Admission Portfolio Review (ARTC 2000)
2. Completion of ARTC 1301 and ARTC 1302 each with a minimum grade of "B"

All Communication Design majors must maintain a minimum major GPA of 2.75 to meet graduation requirements.

ARTT 3375. Experimental Water Media.
Upper level elective for studio majors. Fills teaching certification watercolor requirement. Students will experiment with water media, including watercolor, egg tempera, gouache, and mixed media on a variety of surfaces, including yupo and gessoed paper. Students will explore mixed media with watercolor. Justification: Future teachers need to develop skills in a wide range of water media, on a wide range of paper including yupo, and in combining watercolor with media, such as prismacolors, markers, water soluble markers and pencils and collage.
These things are not covered in the watercolor studio course. The course would also serve as an elective for studio art majors who want to explore multiple media with watercolor.
