

NEW STUDENT ORIENTATION AND REGISTRATION FOR CLASSES

All students are required to attend a New Student Orientation (<http://www.admissions.txstate.edu/admitted/orientation.html>) (NSO) session prior to advising and registration for their classes. Students who have not attended Texas State for one long semester (Fall or Spring) will be required to both reapply to the university and complete new NSO sessions. NSO takes place before each term as a means of providing just-in-time information regarding student support services, class scheduling, and other university resources. NSO is required before advising and registration can occur.
