

---

Texas State University is one university with two campuses, one in San Marcos, TX and one in Round Rock, TX. Students who intend to take courses at the RRC follow the same application process as students to the San Marcos Campus, and have to meet the same admissions requirements as other applicants to Texas State. Additional information can be found on the Round Rock Campus website (<https://www.rrc.txst.edu/>).