
Texas State's Early Admission Program affords local high school juniors and seniors the opportunity to take college-level courses at Texas State while still in high school. The program is intended for students who rank in the top half of their class, who meet or exceed the university's assured freshman admission requirements, and who are recommended by their high school counselor or principal. All the usual freshman priority dates and deadlines (https://www.admissions.txst.edu/future-students/priority_dates.html) apply. For more information on the Early Admission Program, visit the Office of Undergraduate Admissions (<https://www.admissions.txst.edu/future-students/other-admission-types.html>) web page.

Students admitted under this option are considered non-degree seeking and are ineligible for financial aid. After high school graduation, those wishing to continue in a degree-seeking status must reapply and submit their final high school transcript.
